Enough already - this boondoggle should never have begun, it's long past time for it to END. For all the "sins and crimes" Microsoft has been accused of, not nearly enough has been said and credited about their contribution to our society, our economy, and the future. If there's free time to investigate shady situations, start with "representatives" who give themselves a raise at midnight!

In the context of the September 11th attack and all its consequences, while "normal life and activities" need to continue, we have no time, money or energy to continue pouring into this PERsecution ... and had we been putting the time, energy, and money into coordinating with Gates/Microsoft in our defense, is it possible September 11th might have been avoided???Get more from the Web.
